

CONTENTS.

AUTHOR'S PREFACE.

TRANSLATOR'S PRELIMINARY DISCOURSE, viz. Object of the Work.—Discovery of the Philippine Islands and Moluccas.—Fresh Attempts to follow up these Discoveries.—Origin and Termination of the Disputes between Spaniards and Portuguese respecting the Moluccas.—Fresh Attempts to colonize the Philippines.—Leguspi's Expedition.—Conquest and Settlement of Zebu, Pansy, and Manilla.—Conquest of the Interior of Luzon.—Manilla attacked by a Chinese Pirate and nearly taken.—A British Squadron under Drake visits the Archipelago.—Spaniards attack Borneo and Ternate.—Manilla consumed by Fire.—High Court of Justice established there.—Improvements in Manilla.—Rebellion and Destruction of the Chinese Traders and Residents.—Fresh Attempts against the Moluccas.—Capture of Ternate.—Japanese revolt in Manilla.—Spanish Expeditions against the Dutch at Malacca.—War with the Dutch.—Dutch attack the Philippines.—Insurrections of the Indians.—Manilla destroyed by a dreadful Earthquake.—The Philippines threatened by a Chinese Pirate, who took Formosa from the Dutch.—Ternate, Zamboango, &c. evacuated.—Chinese expelled from Manilla.—Commandore Anson captures the Acapulco Ship.—Dreadful Ravages of the Moors.—Volcanic Eruptions.—Chinese again expelled.—Siege and Capture of Manilla by the British.—Occurrences there during the Occupation.—Defence of the Interior by General Anda.—Junini's Letters to Sir William Draper respecting Manilla Ransom.—Evacuation.—General Anda appointed Governor.—Subsequent Events.—Situation of Manilla and Conte.—Division and Size of the Philippines.—Their Climate, Fertility, and Natural Curiosities.—Two Kinds of Aborigines; their Origin, present State; how converted to Mahomedanism.—Marianas Islands and other Dependencies on the Philippines.—Decline of the latter.—Author's Views respecting Indians explained.—General Remarks on Spain in reference to her ultramarine Provinces.

	PAGE
CHAP. I. Population.—Agriculture.—viz. Cotton, Indigo, Sugar, Bees-wax, black Pepper, Coffee, Cocoa, Cinnamon, Nutmeg, Rice, Dye-Woods, and Timber.
II. Of Minerals.—Estates.—Manufactures	31
III. Internal and external Commerce.—Funds therein invested.—Property belonging to pious and charitable Institutions.—Mercantile Shipping.—Royal Philippine Company	62
IV. Of the public Revenue.—Revenue arising out of the Crown Monopolies of Tobacco.—Of the Coco and Nipa, or Palmy Wine.—Royal Custom House.—Import and Export Duties.—Monopoly of the Bonga, or Araca Nut	96
V. Revenue continued.—Licence of Cockpits.—Judicial Tributes.—Subaltern Branches.—Disbursements and General Expences	150
(VI) Of the Civil Administration and Government of the Provinces	192
(VII) Of the Spiritual Administration	200
VIII. Of the Moors and their Piracies	231

APPENDIX.

	PAGE
TABLE I. Population of the Philippine Islands, according to the most recent Data	275
II. Comparative Statement of Expences in cultivating Sugar, Indigo, and Rice	277
III. General List of Philippine Manufactures and Provinces in which made	281
IV. Imports, Exports, and ordinary Consumption of the Philippine Islands	283
V. Funds belonging to Pious and Religious Establishments, let out at Maritime Risks	285
VI. Various Branches of the Public Revenue, Expences, and Nett Proceeds	286
VII. General Statement of Sales, Expences, and Proceeds of the Tobacco Monopoly, for a given Period of Years	288
VIII. Royal Custom House and other Duties, for a given Period of Years	290
IX. General Statement of Indian Tributes according to Provinces, Expences of Collection, and Nett Proceeds	292
X. General Statement of the Expences of Administration and Defence of the Philippine Islands	294
XI. Enumeration of all the Towns and Missions, distinguishing the Religious Orders and Indian Clergy by whom administered ..	297